BRANDING GUIDELINES

This document is a guide to the correct usage of XSplit logos on third party materials. It explains how our brand should be represented as well as demonstrating how it can coalesce to create a coherent and unified visual design that will compliment any third party branding.

- <3 The XSplit Team

THE XSPLIT LOGO FAMILY

Note: All full color XSplit logos must adhere to the signature design of the “X” being the same color as the XSplit Canvas icon.

Parent Product Logo The parent logo represents the complete family of XSplit products and should only be used in instances when referring to XSplit in nonproduct specific terms.

Wide Product Logo This is the default logo design for instances when referring solely to either XSplit Broadcaster or XSplit Gamecaster. Stacked Stacked Product Logo The stacked variation of the XSplit product logo is intended solely for use in UI and marketing materials with limited space.

ADDITIONAL VARIATIONS OF XSPLIT LOGOS

We believe Live Streaming and Broadcasting Gameplay is not just a hobby, but a way of life. This is why we created a range of logo variations specifically for use in the context of our social media, merchandise and community branding. Each logo was created to convey and speak to the lifestyle, interests and tastes of the XSplit community, taking influence from popular gaming culture.

COLOR VARIATIONS

Black Variation

This is our primary color variation and is intended for use on darker backgrounds (e.g. black, dark grey)

White Variation

The white variation, featuring darker text is intended for use on white or lighter backgrounds.

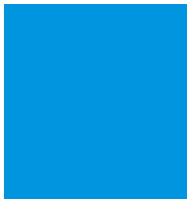

Single Tone Variation

This single color variation should only be used in instances where the default XSplit colors either clash or lose prominence with other elements.

SPACING & COLOR CONSIDERATIONS

We recommend keeping at least a 30% clearspace between logotype and other non-XSplit adjacent elements. We also thank you for not embellishing designs with added drop shadows, patterns or intricate backgrounds.

For smaller images please use the XSplit parent logo. The minimum recommended size for the parent logo is 30mm wide (150 pixels online)

NOMENCLATURE

When referring to XSplit always capitalize both the “X” and “S” in XSplit.

Do Not

- Hyphenate XSplit e.g. “X-Split”
- Add a space between X and Split “X Split”
- Omit letters e.g. “Xplit” “XPLIT”
- Block Capitalize XSplit e.g. “XSPLIT”
- Preface product titles with “The” e.g. “The XSplit Gamecaster”

When referring to XSplit products use complete names e.g. XSplit Gamecaster or XSplit Broadcaster.

Avoid using shorthand such as “Broadcaster” or “Gamecaster” as these are general terms and may cause confusion.

Correct Usage	Do NOT Use
“XSplit Gamecaster”	“Gamecaster”
“XSplit Broadcaster”	“Broadcaster”

Note: When writing XSplit product names please refrain from capitalizing the “C” in caster” e.g “XSplit GameCaster” or “XSplit BroadCaster”.

When referring to the developers of XSplit: Please format the company name as follows “SplitmediaLabs”

Do Not

- Block capitalize company name e.g. SPLITMEDIALABS
- Add unnecessary spaces e.g Split Media Labs
- Hyphenate company name e.g. Split-Media-Labs

Important keys in designing XSplit Social Media Graphics

Should be visually appealing. The design should catch users' attention and compel them to click.

Always use high quality images to avoid pixelation. Avoid using too much drop shadow. Make sure all texts are readable and product logos are not pixelated. Do not use more than two different font styles. Make it fun and professional looking at the same time.

Brief. Keep the message direct — preferably fewer than five words.

Action-oriented. Set expectations, and make it clear what their click accomplishes.

Focus on value. Be sure to state exactly what visitors will get if they click on the CTA (call to action). "Click here" tells the user nothing, whereas "download your free license here" sets expectations and expresses value.

ON-STREAM BRANDING

The following is an overview on preferred XSplit branding for live stream content. On all accounts we normally prioritize the XSplit Parent logo with white text for darker backgrounds.

Example of XSplit Logo visible in a traditional PiP Setting. Please ensure that height of the logo is equal to that of other partners and that the white text variation is used for darker backgrounds

For break, BRB or title screens again please use the XSplit Parent logo and ensure it is proportioned to that of other partners visible.

In Game please use the XSplit Parent logo, in instances where the logo will be against colors of a similar shade please either opt to use either the single tone variation or apply a light drop shadow in order to accentuate it's features

For lower thirds, please opt to use the XSplit parent logos at all times, ideally prioritizing the lighter variation, unless the background is white or of a similar shade to that of the canvas.

Use of our press kit & branding materials

Do not use our name or product logo in a way that may be confusing, misleading, or suggest our sponsorship, endorsement, or affiliation without first gaining expressed written permission from us first. If you wish to use any of our branding materials for a related event, please do so via our contact form.

Other Questions?

If you have any other questions or queries please feel free to email pr@xsplit.com. If you intend to use XSplit branding materials it is helpful to also provide a mockup of your intended design so we can be specific in our response.

By using XSplit press kit materials, you agree to follow these press kit guidelines, and all relevant XSplit policies, as may be updated from time to time. You also acknowledge that SplitmediaLabs Limited, developers of XSplit software, are the sole owner of XSplit related trademarks, and you agree not to interfere with SplitmediaLabs' rights in them.

SplitmediaLabs may review use of the branding materials at any time and reserves the right to terminate or modify any misuse, unfair use, use that does not comply with these guidelines, use that violates any applicable law, or any other use that might impair SplitmediaLabs' rights in its logos and trademarks.

The background is a dark teal color with a complex geometric pattern of overlapping triangles in various shades of blue and teal. Scattered throughout the background are small white and dark grey dots, some of which are connected by thin lines, creating a network-like effect.
